

Book the studio from your phone

Your booking calendar lives on the web, so it goes onto your home screen like any other app — no app store, no updates to chase.

Scan this with your phone camera

What you can do there

- See what is free — your own bookings by name, everyone else's time simply as busy.
- Book by the hour — pick a free slot, name it, done. It is yours straight away.
- Take whole days — give it a date range and every open day in it is booked for a longer project.
- Cancel what you no longer need — one tap, and the time is free for everyone again.

You need an invitation from us to sign in. If the link has expired, write to us and we will send a new one. Bookings reach our studio diary the moment you make them — nothing else to confirm.
